

Template Abandonment Notices

The template notices below are the three documents that should be issued in the event of a horse owner abandoning their horse on your property, or failure of a livery client to attend to their horse for an acceptable period. If you know the owner of the horse, all reasonable attempts should be made to contact them directly before issuing such a notice.

If this is not possible, the police should be contacted, advised of an abandoned equine, and an incident number requested. This applicable notice should then be copied and posted on the stable, field gate etc where the horse is residing. If no one comes forward within the given time period, the horse may be claimed or dealt with accordingly.
